Intercollegiates in May Certain to Bring Big Batch of New Records.

PENN AND CORNELL VIE

Former Needs Two Victories and Latter One to Get Cup Permanently.

When the flag is raised on the Harvard stadium on May 30 for the intercollegiate track and field championships, what is expected to be one of the greatest athletic meets in the history of track sports in this country will be ushered in. Never before have there been so many athletes of high calibre as are in the colleges of the I. C. A. A. A. and there will be little surprise if world's records are set up in half a dozen events. This remarkable condition is due largely to the fact that this year for the first time in the last two year for the first time in the last two decades almost two-thirds of the men who scored points in the intercollegiates at Franklin Field last June still will be in college and in this number are included ome of the greatest athletes of the day world's amateur record for the mile; Marc S. Wright of Dartmouth, holder of the world's record for the pole vault; Russell L. Beatty of Columbia, holder of the intercollegiate record for the shotput, and J. I. Wendell of Wesleyan, one of the hundler on the American Olympia. of the hurdlers on the American Olympic team last summer, are the most promising of the stars who will compete in this year's games. Opposed to Jones in the mile will be Norman Taber of Brown, who surprised everybody last spring by running a dead heat with Jones and almost beating him. Jimmy Craig of Michigan, a brother of Ralph Craig, and one of the fastest men over the low hurdles in the country, is looked to to set a new record. This list does not take into account at all the men who will come up to the intercollegiates for the first time, some of whom, if they live up to their early reputations, may well be xpected to make the veterans go to their

City College Nine.

Fordham University began its baseball season yesterday on Fordham Field, defeating City College, 26 to 5. The Bronzonians knocked Bennett out of the box in the first inning and before they stopped hitting Donaldson twelve Maroon players had crossed the plate. Sharkey, the Maroon's former captain and second baseman, distinguished himself by scoring five runs and making four hits, one of them a home run. Viviano added a little variety to the uninteresting contest by stealing third base and home in the sixth inning.

The game furnished a great opportunity to Coach Coffey to try out his subs and the first long will be memorable in college athletic circles by winning both the accomplished when he first ran for Cornell in the intercollegiates in 1911. Pennsylvania has lost exactly one-half of the point winners of a year aso, retaining only fourteen of the twenty-eight points that won for it last June. Cornell, on the other hand, has lost only four points of the seventeen and a half made a year and the rivalry of the two is enhanced by the fact that Cornell needs to win the cup only one more time in order to capture dit permanently. Pennsylvania has three wictories to its credit and if Mike Murphy splaying at the end of the game.

GEORGETOWN. PRINCETON.

In the number of points retained Michigan is by far the most fortunate of all, for of the men who scored 15 points for for of the men who scored 15 points for the Westerners last year not one has been lost by graduation or otherwise. Harvard loses six points of its thirteen, while Columbia loses only four, so that the team from Morningside for the first time in years has to be reckoned as a factor in this year's championships. The graduation of Reidpath from Syracuse takes away ten of the twelve points that the Sait City collegians scored, and it is doubtful if Robertson, the sprinter, will run, so that Syracuse will have to begin from the bottom. Dartmouth retains 6½ of its 11 points, while Yale keeps 5 of its 10 points. Wesleyan. Brown, Princeton and Bowdoin each retains its point winners, seven, six, five and two respectively.

Only in the quarter and the high jump have six points or more been lost, and in two of the events, the hundred and the shotput, every man who scored last year will be on hand for this year's finals. Totals. 39261824 7 2
